After Registration

After your registration has been reviewed, you will receive an e-mail confirming your membership in the zooplus Animal Charities Discount programme.

When making your next purchase at zooplus, log in using the e-mail address and password that you entered for your Animal Charities Discount programme registration. Your personal data will automatically appear for each order.

For technical reasons, the Animal Charities Discount programme is linked to the e-mail address that you used for registration. Unfortunately, it is not possible to credit you with a discount retrospectively.

The 8% discount will automatically be subtracted from your total starting at an order value of £75.

Your order will leave our warehouse within 48 hours and will be delivered free of shipping costs to the address you specified.

Please note that you cannot use any other coupons in combination with the Animal Charities Discount programme. Only one coupon or general discount can be honoured per order.
